

Ken Lanshe

Vice President - Administration and Shenzhen Hub
Global Sourcing, Walmart

Ken is the Vice President of Global Sourcing, Walmart. He has responsibilities for Global Sourcing's administration and infrastructure globally.

He joined Walmart Global Procurement (GP) in September 2008 as Senior Director, Ethical Standards and Sustainability. He was responsible for the Ethical Standards operations globally and Sustainability throughout the Ken has over 20 years of international experience in engineering, operations, quality, Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), and has been based in China, Malaysia, Taiwan, Korea, Spain, and Singapore. He was the Managing Director for Dell Inc's China Development Center, Vice President of Supply Chain and CSR for Lite-On Technology and has held numerous senior management positions in the Asia technology sector.

Ken is originally from the United States and currently resides in China with his wife. He graduated with a BS in Computer Electronics from Coleman College, a Masters in Business Administration from Golden Gate University and is pursuing a DM degree in his "spare" time. Ken is active in community service projects and enjoys spending time with his five children and four grandchildren.